Our main goal is not to die until we reach the finish line. Since this long journey will be so bloody and violent, it is very inconvenient for those under seventeen to play. It is also not a proper game to play in schools. There are many creative and fun game modes and maps available from each other that are initially offered to us to choose from. After you select the map, it is time to select the character. There are eleven different characters and they all have different characteristics from each other. Some of them can go fast, some of them can jump, you should choose the most appropriate section of the weak ones do not mislead you because you will be surprised to see what you can do. You have to finish the chapter as fast as you can, and you have to be careful when you do that, because after a while you may get tired of dying. You must collect as much gold as you can on the way, you can spend it at the grocery store later. Now I'm going to tell you about a feature that makes the game beautiful: personal maps. You can play on your own designed and produced a map or present it to other players. As you progress through the chapters, you may find yourself playing nonstop.
